Kristine Bonnevie Lectures on Evolutionary Biology 2009

Programme Wednesday September 2.

Sophus Lies Auditorium

10.15-10.20 Opening remarks by
Rector Ole Petter Ottersen

10.20-10.45 Camilla Schreiner
"To Study or Not to Study Biology"

10.45-11.45 Barbara Rosemary Grant
"Evolution in Darwin's Finches"

The main speaker B. R. Grant is together with her husband, Peter Grant, this years winner of the Kyoto Prize, Basic Sciences, for documenting rapid evolution caused by natural selection in response to environmental changes.

UNIVERSITY OF OSLO

CEES Centre for Ecological and Evolutionary Synthesis

The Kristine Bonnevie Lectures on Evolutionary Biology are organized by the CEES as part of the University of Oslo anniversary, for more information see: www.cees.uio.no.

© The Complete Work of Charles Darwin Online